

Euro-Mediterranean Migrations Congress

The Euro-Mediterranean Migrations Congress will be held on 26th, 27th and 28th April 2017 in the Faculty of Economics of the University of Alcalá. It is organized by the Jean Monnet Chair "Economic Policy and European Union" and the University Institute for Economic and Social Analysis (IAES).

This Congress is part of a project for the European Commission under the title "New dimensions of Euro-Mediterranean Integration through Migration: socioeconomic impact and policies (ExoMed)". This project was assigned in competitive tender to the above-mentioned Chair Jean Monnet.

The Congress is open to researchers, academics, public authorities, professionals and the civil society. Attendance is allowed with or without the presentation of a paper. Registration is free up to 125 participants, and includes the right for attending, presenting papers and receiving the congress papers, as well as the meals during the Congress. Travel and hotel expenses will be funded on restrictive and justified terms, imposed by the project regulation, and taking into account the economic need, the interest of the paper and the order of reception.

Call for abstracts

Paper proposals consisting of a summary of around 150 words must be submitted until 06th February. Accepted languages for papers writing and presentation are Spanish, English and French.

Papers will be circumscribed geographically to Europe-28 and MENA countries (though other countries can be included if they have an influence in the Euro-Mediterranean region or can be compared to it). Papers will deal with one of the following proposed subjects: international coordination of migrations, geostrategic, economic and/or social impact of migrations, integration of immigrants, migratory policies, legal aspects of migrations, demography and migrant populations, circular migrations, regional integration and migrations, others related.

After the assessment of the Scientific Committee, those accepted abstracts will be informed to their authors by February, 20th. The final delivery for accepted papers will be 3rd April 2017, for their inclusion in an electronic diffusion support. Selected papers will be published in a scientific review.

Paper proposals should be sent to: iaes@uah.es
